Bats and Mines National Workshop

October 5-7, 2020

The Brown Hotel, Louisville, Kentucky

Join us at the Historic Brown Hotel in Louisville, Kentucky for the Bats and Mines National Workshop

The focus of this workshop will be:

- Overcoming management challenges to private, state and federal organizations involved in mining; and
- Developing ways to address problems encountered at mines containing bats.

Topics of the workshop will focus around three main themes:

1. Abandoned Mine Lands (AML);
2. Regulatory concerns of the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act (SMCRA); and
3. Biology and Ecology of Bats/White Nose Syndrome.

Join us as we work to develop strategies to assist agencies, consultants and others in addressing regulatory and management challenges when bats are encountered at mines.

Who should attend: Consultants, state and federal agency personnel, mine operators, land managers, researchers and anyone else involved in managing bats in and around mines. There will be poster sessions offering opportunities for students to let their expertise and voices be heard.
